Junior Boarding: Mrs Roberts-Barter reports:

Last weekend the girls enjoyed a trip to the London Eye on Saturday and on Sunday the girls hosted a Mother's Day afternoon tea for Mrs Roseblade. The sixth form made delicious scones with clotted cream and jam and the junior boarders made sandwiches which were all served in the Oak Hall.

This weekend, the girls will have a quiet day on Saturday, with shopping in Guildford if they would like, and on Sunday we will be visiting the Fashion and Textile Museum in London.

Coffee on Monday will be served in the Junior Boarding House as usual. On Monday 26 April we will be in the Sixth Form House for coffee and then the swimming pool will be available for anyone who would like to go for a swim.

Prior's Field Old Girls Day: A message from Mrs Bushell, Alumnae Coordinator:

We are delighted to give you details of Old Girls' day which we will be holding on Saturday 15th May. This will be an opportunity for any Old Girls to wander freely round the school, to see what has changed and developed and socialise, not just with friends, but with former staff.

Tickets will cost £12 per person or £20 per family which includes a welcome drink, two/three course lunch, coffee and a choice of afternoon activities.

We are also pleased to be welcoming back to Prior's Field author and historian Kate Williams. Her recent best seller on the young Queen Victoria, 'Becoming Queen', quickly became a must read. Kate visited the school last year and gave an interesting and inspirational talk to the girls and visitors at our successful 'tea in the library' event.

Any Old Girls who are on our database will, of course be receiving an invite through the post shortly. If you are an Old Girl yourself or have friends or family that are Old Girls and would like to go on our alumnae list then please contact Sam Bushell on sbushell@priorsfieldschool.com.
